

To whom it may concern,

I have coached Brandon Ohre for nearly two years. Brandon is always prepared, open to making the needed adjustments and is very coachable. He approaches the game the right way and with a great attitude. Brandon always gives 100% effort whether it be at practice or in the games that we've played. He doesn't shy away from asking questions to help him better his game and/or his knowledge of the game. I have seen him grow into a young man and a baseball player that can contribute and compete at the next level. Having played at Arizona State Univ. and in the Houston Astros organization, I can highly recommend Brandon as someone I would want to have on my team or in my program.

Please feel free to contact me if needed.
